

I am outraged that the FCC may soon vote to end long-established rules governing multiple ownership of media. The airwaves belong to the public. If you vote to allow further consolidation of the media you are making it very clear that you care only to serve the interests of the industry which you are supposed to regulate.